UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA, LAS VEGAS

THOMAS & MACK CENTER MODERNIZATION AND W. ADDITION

The Thomas & Mack Center, located on the campus of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, has served as an iconic facility since 1982. The gala grand opening featured artists such as Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Diana Ross. Initially, the building's construction plans centered around one event only - college basketball, but over its 23-year history, this concept dramatically changed. This two-story, 268,000 SF, 18,500-seat multipurpose events center, is the site for basketball and hockey games, major concerts, ice shows, and the National Finals Rodeo.

Whiting-Turner performed facility improvements, modernization and infrastructure improvements to the existing building in two phases. Phase I included ADA improvements, the replacement of the existing escalators and elevators, concourse restroom improvements with complete remodel and expanded capacity, concourse movement improvements, modernization of concession stands with an addition of a new stand, new arena seating, updated expanded meeting room space, the replacement of major mechanical systems, a new sound system and new state-of-the-art ceiling grid to accommodate any show. Phase II consisted of the construction of a 35,000 SF, two-story addition with addition meeting room space and an outdoor balcony overlooking the Las Vegas strip.

We are extremely proud of this modernization project. Not only will all of the improvements allow the Thomas & Mack Center to continue to be a viable destination for first-class events in a competitive market, it will also provide an enhanced experience for all of our guests. The changes to the facility will also make the Thomas & Mack Center better home for UNLV Runnin' Rebel basketball, the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo, NBA Summer League, USA Basketball, Feld Entertainment and all of our great event partners. Working with our contractor, Whiting-Turner, has been a great experience. They have gone above and beyond to see our vision and make it happen. We truly appreciate and thank them for their hard work."

CITY OF HENDERSON / VEGAS GOLDEN KNIGHTS DOLLAR LOAN CENTER

The Dollar Loan Center is a multi-purpose arena that was designed to accommodate 6,000 spectators for hockey events. The Henderson Silver Knights minor league hockey team are the co-Owners and the main tenant for the arena. In addition to hockey, the facility hosts a multitude of other event types including basketball, concerts, graduations, banquets, and even dirt for motocross events. The project is organized around three levels. The event level houses team offices, player facilities, food service, large storage, and staging areas. The concourse level is the main public level that includes building entries, ticketing, restrooms, concessions, team store, and a large restaurant. The public concourse is a wide circulation space that rings the entire level and facilitates access to seating for events. The suite level is arranged around another smaller circulation that also rings the entire building. This section has premium seating options including suites, party suites, club seating and loge boxes. The highest level is a catwalk level for services, broadcast, and press functions. The arena is designed around a main tenet of “no obstructed views” and has accommodations for wheelchair patrons scattered around the bowl at all levels to allow for a premium experience for all.

Whiting-Turner has been tremendous throughout the project whenever we have a special request or event and today was no different. Everyone was all in and stepped up whenever we asked for something no matter if it was clearing out the event floor, or problem solving around pumping up a football. The team's intensity and focus is exactly the type of partner we were looking for when we started this project. Please pass our thanks along to the team and know that their time and efforts are truly appreciated."
